4. Definitions

Assessment Criteria: Assessment criteria describe what an assessor needs to see that students have achieved learning outcomes. Assessment criteria cannot, therefore, refer to hidden mental processes but rather must describe actual performance of a skill, provide evidence of an attribute or evidence of understanding of the concepts, theories and principles introduced in a program of study.

Assessors: Assessors are those responsible for designing the assessment task and for implementing and marking this task. In the case of formative assessment, this is often the instructor responsible for the course. In the case of summative assessment, the assessor may be internal or external to Gulf University or a combination of both.

Course Intended Learning Outcomes: Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs) describe the knowledge, skills and attributes envisioned to be achievable by students who have been enrolled in a course. CILOs, therefore, contribute to PILOs.

Diagnostic Assessment: Diagnostic assessment includes all forms of assessment that are used to diagnose a students' learning needs, to diagnose the need for further input by the instructor or to diagnose the need to adjust the learning program. Formative assessment is often used for this process alongside its primary function of providing developmental feedback to the student.

Formative Assessment: Formative assessment includes all forms of assessment that has learning enhancement and the provision of feedback to students as its primary purpose. Formative assessment serves to motivate and deepen student learning, to consolidate work done thus far and to give students a sense of their achievements and areas requiring further attention. Formative assessment always includes developmental feedback and is often followed by summative assessment.

Instructor: An instructor is an individual appointed by Gulf University to teach courses.

Student: A student is any individual who is formally registered in a program offered by Gulf University.

Learning: Learning is understood to encompass the knowledge and skills that result from engagement with the teaching activities planned and designed for a program of study. Learning is cumulative and can manifest itself in many forms and assessment needs to take account of this. New learning builds on and expands existing learning.

Learning Outcomes: Learning outcomes state what students should be able to do by the time they have completed the course or program for which the outcomes are set. Outcomes can include knowledge, skills and attitudes. The attainment of outcomes is determined through the assessment process.

Plagiarism: Plagiarism is the copying of ideas and content from another source without appropriate referencing. This can include the copying of work from another student. Where plagiarism has been detected in any assessment, the Plagiarism Policy and Procedures must be implemented.

Program Intended Learning Outcomes: Program Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs) describe the knowledge, skills and attributes envisioned to be achievable by students who have followed a program of study. Demonstration of achievement of the PILOs is a necessary requirement for the award of a qualification associated with a program.

Summative Assessment: Summative assessment includes all forms of assessment that lead to the measurement of student learning, usually in the form of a mark or score, for the purpose of determining student success in demonstrating achievement of set outcomes. Summative assessment is thus the means by which student progress is determined.

Verifiers/Moderators: Verifiers/Moderators are those, who scrutinize the validity and consistency of the assessment tasks through verification (pre and post-moderation). They are internal and external to Gulf University. The verifier/moderator has responsibility for assuring the validity of the assessment by checking the alignment between:

- The assessment type and content with the relevant outcomes.
- The assessment criteria and the relevant outcomes.

The verifier/moderator also has responsibility for assuring the reliability of the assessment by sampling the assessed tasks and checking that the assessment criteria and marking have been accurately, fairly and consistently applied.

6. Policy Details

6.1 Principles of Assessment Methods

Assessment methods are:

- Developmental, in that some assessments are formative and provide sufficient supportive feedback to enhance learning.
- Valid, in that they are designed to measure what they state they will measure.
- Transparent, in that the criteria by which students will be assessed is made clear to students, assessors and verifiers (moderators).
- Consistent, in that assessors will evaluate the student work against the stated criteria.
- Reliable, in that they will be verified (moderated).

6.2 2 Alignment

The principle of alignment for curriculum coherence is central at Gulf University. This means that the course materials, teaching approach, learning activities and assessments are designed to ensure that they align to ensure the attainment of the relevant learning outcome(s).

In order to ensure that there is alignment between the course outcomes, the assessment methods and their weights, the following factors are considered:

- CILOs be stated in the course specifications.
- Alignment of assessment methods with CILOs.
- Weighted mark for each assessment method.

The following diagram illustrates the alignment between course outcomes and assessment methods:

6.3 Assessment Methods

1. Participation	Continuous process of measuring class presentations, communication skills, team building and other soft skills in the form of brainstorming, seminar, role-plays, practical exercises etc. Such participation shall comprise of student-instructor discussions during lectures and group discussions amongst students.
2. Course Work	Course work shall undertake a longer period of time than a single class and shall include assignments, homework, problem solving activities, case studies, practical, laboratory or group projects with report on particular topics.
3. Quiz	Short answer questions in a structured format measuring mainly knowledge and subject specific skills.
4. Major Examinations (Midterm and Final Exams / Jury / Panel Assessments)	Major Examinations (Midterm and final exams, Jury/Panel Assessments) shall be designed for the purpose of evaluating students' knowledge and various skills relevant to the course intended learning outcomes (CILOs).

6.4 Marking Scheme

Total course mark comprises of various assessment methods and aligned to course type and level. Mark scheme is as follows:

Participation	Course Work	Quizzes	Midterm Assessment	Final Assessment	Total
Discussion / Involvement	Assignment / Homework/Project / Case study	Written / Online	Written Exam/Jury / Panel	Written Exam/Jury / Panel
5-10 %	10-50 %	0-20 %	15-20 %	30-40 %	100%

For low-level and theoretical courses, Instructors shall emphasize more on written assessment methods (Rightward arrow), while for high-level and practical courses, Instructors shall emphasize more on student involvement and course work assessment methods (Leftward arrow).

6.5 Grading and Ranking Scheme

6.5.1 For marking students' work, Gulf University considers the following grading and ranking system, which is based on a 4-point scale:

Grade	A	A-	B+	B	B-	C+	C	C-	D+	D	F

Point	4.00	3.67	3.33	3.00	2.67	2.33	2.00	1.67	1.33	1.00	0
Rank	Excellent	Very Good		Good			Pass			Fail

6.5.2 Grade description is as follows:
